

Research Seminar & Paper Development Workshop

2026.06.03 (Wed.)

管理學院壹號館403教室

13:00-13:20    Registration

13:20-13:30    Opening

13:30-14:30    Effective Academic Presentation and Communication at Conferences

Academic conferences are not only venues for presenting research, but also important opportunities to communicate ideas, build scholarly networks, and position one's research within the academic community. This talk focuses on how researchers—especially PhD students and junior scholars—can communicate more effectively in conference settings.

By Prof. JJ Po-An Hsieh, Georgia State University

Dr. J.J. Po-An Hsieh is a professor in the Department of Computer Information Systems at the Robinson College of Business, Georgia State University (GSU), his alma mater. He received the Faculty Recognition Award for Research at Robinson College of Business, Georgia State University, as well as the Faculty Award for Outstanding Achievement in Research and the Faculty of Business Fellow Award at Hong Kong Polytechnic University. Dr. Hsieh was the recipient of the Association of Information Systems (AIS) Mid-Career Award and the Information Systems Research Annual Best Associate Editor Award - a prestigious recognition for his editorial contributions to this premier IS outlet. He was further voted by the Master of Science in Information Systems (MSIS) students at GSU as the recipient of the Top Professor Teaching Award. He has served as the Associate Editor (AE) for Information Systems Research, MIS Quarterly, MIS Quarterly – Special Issue on Managing AI, Journal of Management Information Systems – Special Issue on Metaverse, and Decision Support Systems – Special Issue on Omnichannel Business. He has also served as the Senior Editor (SE) for the Pacific Asia Journal of the Association for Information Systems and an editorial review board (ERB) member for the Journal of the Association for Information Systems, which is ranked the 4th journal in the IS field. He has further served as one of the three panel members from the world to oversee competitive annual grant applications in the IS area for the Hong Kong Research Grant Council (akin to NSF in the US) for three consecutive terms. Before joining GSU, he was a professor of MIS in the Department of Management and Marketing, as well as the director of the flagship Doctor of Business Administration (DBA) and Doctor of Business Management (DMgt) programs at Hong Kong Polytechnic University.
